

ANIKA RAHMAN

BOARD MEMBER

Anika knows that individuals and organizations can inspire movements that benefit both people and the planet by advancing human rights for all, promoting a just society, and prompting climate action. She has dedicated her life to championing reproductive rights, gender justice, and sustainable global development and to fighting racism in all its forms. Throughout her career, with leadership positions at the Center for Reproductive Rights, USA for UNFPA, the Ms. Foundation for Women, the Rainforest Alliance, and NRDC, Anika has been a voice—and a catalyst—for change. Her commitment to advancing equality is also reflected in her management consulting practice for progressive nonprofits.

- ▶ Anika's writing has appeared in the New York Times, The Chronicle of Philanthropy, Crain's New York Business, Philanthropy News Digest, and CNN.com.
- ▶ She speaks on leadership, public service, nonprofit management, gender justice, reproductive rights, DEIB, and sustainable development.
- ▶ You can find her work in the books: "Female Genital Mutilation: A Guide to Laws and Policies Worldwide" & "Women of the World: Laws and Policies Affecting Their Reproductive Lives - Latin America and the Caribbean".
