

DR. RAMATU BANGURA

BOARD MEMBER

Dr. Ramatu Bangura is leading the design and inception of the Children's Rights Innovation Fund (CRIF). Prior to CRIF, Ramatu previously served as a Program Officer for the NoVo Foundation's Advancing Adolescent Girls' Rights Initiative where she funded work to advance the rights, leadership and safety of adolescent girls in the United States and in the Global South. Ramatu has spent the last 25 years engaging in organizing, advocacy and research on a host of issues impacting transnational girls, including early and forced marriage, sexual violence, trafficking, commercial sexual exploitation, and educational access for English Language Learners; in the United States and Central America. Ramatu earned both a Masters of Education (EdM) and Doctorate of Education (EdD) from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Follow @ramatuforgirls and @MADRESpeaks

Questions?

media@MADRE.org

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- ▶ Organizational Development
- ▶ Gendered, Racialized, & Sexualized Violence
- ▶ Feminist & Anti-Racist Political Education
- ▶ Adolescent Girls' Rights
- ▶ Black Feminist Scholarship